

Get started with Sequence

Sequence trains memory. In this game you have to remember the order of the spots.

The game can be played solo or in teams by taking turns at remembering the order.

How to play

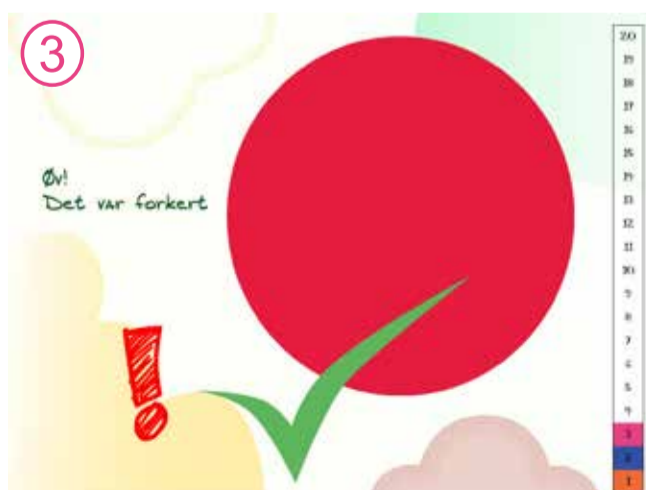

The first player steps on a spot.
The second player steps on the same spot and a new spot.

The third player steps on the two already chosen spots and chooses another new spot. It is possible to step on the same spot (same colour) more than once.

The game continues in that way by players stepping on the already added spots in the right order and adding a new spot each round – it goes as far as 20 spots!

If you make a wrong step the game starts over!
